India is at the crossroads today, a nation poised for greatness in the coming century, as an educationist, I wonder what are we doing to prepare the young minds in our schools and colleges for this event. What role have we envisaged for our students? Would they be change agents, global trend setters or ambassadors who would adapt, innovate and create? This question is also uppermost in the minds of parents, teachers and policy makers. As an educationist I have always strongly believed that the destiny of India is being shaped in its classrooms. The schools and teachers are the best change agents. In order to nurture our learners to be adaptable, flexible, interdependent and change oriented, I feel the way forward is to go back to our roots, understand our culture which has been the strongest binding factor and beacon of hope through turbulent times right from the ancient period. Yet, it is not enough to be just culturally oriented but necessary to develop a rationale and scientific outlook which is a combination of the heart of the Buddha and the mind of Einstein. A school is a fertile ground for nurturing this combination of heart and mind through teaching learning explorations. I believe Sri Ranganath School would make this difference possible through its curriculum.

Sri Ranganath International school is a nascent institution which has developed its roots and is willing to spread its wings high and soar in the educational space to be a unique and exceptional institution where young minds are ignited with the passion of contributing to the society and building a resurgent India. The young hearts would be filled with hope, positivity and a strong will to take the onus and achieve the goal of being prepared for the life ahead.

Our belief is to cherish the individuality of each child, provide an opportunity to develop the leadership skills, creative potential through activity based teaching. The teachers are passionate explorers in the journey of learning with students and personally mentor the growth of each child. The classrooms are fun places filled with inquiry, respect and reflection to encourage conceptual learning.

For students to imbibe the values and traditions, preaching the same would not suffice, a demonstration of the same would be needed by role models on a continual basis in the school. A passionate and committed team of teachers led by a proactive management makes the vision set forth possible. I take this opportunity to welcome you to join me in this crusade of joyful learning at Sri Ranganath International School.

➤ Engaging in Teachers' Professional Development:

Our teachers' professional development in general is based on a research-based theory by The North Central Regional Educational Laboratory which has developed a research-based professional development framework that promotes ongoing professional development and encourages individual reflection and group inquiry into teachers' practice. In practice, the five phases overlap, repeat, and often occur simultaneously.

But to ensure a structured approach towards this, we at SRI have proper in-house trainings and as well as trainings from ACT & CBSE, which help in the growth of the teachers' professional development.

➤ Initiating Innovations in Schools:

Innovations are a part and parcel of life. With the new technology chipping into every nook and corner of our life, it becomes a necessity to become well equipped with the new trends as on to get at par with the present generation. Yet it is absolutely necessary to be present, show the affection and care to the students. This dual role can become an easy task when we include well researched theories into class rooms.

We at SRI follow skill based teaching from Pre-primary to grade 4 , which has helped the child to excel in the skills. Now, once the child is ready with the skill it's easy to understand the concepts.

Similarly we have also introduced Whole Brain Teaching for these levels, which keep the students well motivated and active throughout the class.

Now for the grade 5 and above we use the Creative Teaching Model, through which we are able to reach out to every kind of learner in the class.

The impact of it has made the students creative, confident and well organized while producing the thought. As for teachers, it has become a parameter to evaluate the students based on their skills and knowledge.

➤ Leading the Teaching Learning Process:

Leading the teaching learning process has two conclusions of its own. One is teaching learning process within the school; second one is collaborated with the other schools. We are a team of well-trained teachers and make sure to stick to a school's structure and adhere by CBSE guidelines.

➤ Developing a Learning Culture:

SRI is planning a big role in making sure to have a learning culture in the school with enough, thoughtful and research-based activities designed by ACT, Bangalore. The co-curricular activities are fun but are knowledgeable too.

The vision and mission of our school very well aligns with descriptors and guidelines of CBSE and that helps us as leaders to execute the learning culture well.

Ek Bharat Shrestha Bharat especially has left a great impact on the students and has led them to think, research and explore the life on the line of History and its comparison with the present scenario.

➤ Building an Inclusive Culture:

Inclusive learning isn't just a term but a theory in itself. Inclusions in terms learning disabilities, disturbed backgrounds, inclusion of different cultures, races and gender; the list goes on. This culture needs a special training. SRI has continuous training culture. We believe in Learn –Unlearn and Relearn.

“Leadership isn't just about leading from front but also leading from the right example and I am so ready for it.”

Mr. Vikram Narvekar
Principal

Sri Ranganath International School

SRI is a great international school which boasts of an exceptional campus, designed to foster creativity, interaction and collaboration among students.

The Principal, Mr. Vikram Narvekar, who has an extraordinary aesthetic sense, has not only beautified the school but has also gone to the extent of transforming the personality of the teachers and the students to an international level.

During my short stay, I experienced a totally different atmosphere in the campus, where the children would greet me and talk to me as though they've known me since a long time.

Nonetheless, the teachers were also very hospitable and confident with great amount of knowledge yet humble in their approach. The support staff also showed equal amount of respect and hospitality to their guests, while trying to make their guests feel at home.

The Vice-Principal, Mrs. Vasudha Narvekar, does not leave any stone unturned and gets to the minutest detailing, be it checking the quality of food, children's academic progress, addressing teachers' issues with regards to teaching, planning or exam related. Her warmth and care has made the school as well as the hostel first home for the children. She ensures that everyone on the campus is happy and comfortable while disposing their duties without fail.

The high energy of the Principal combined with the vibrant nature of the Vice-Principal has become the visible and distinctive characteristic of every student and staff of SRI.

In short, SRI, under the able leadership of both the Principal and the Vice-Principal, promises longevity and sustained excellence, thereby separating it from all the good schools to be one of the BEST schools in the state!

"What a miracle it is that out of these small, flat, rigid squares of paper unfolds world after world after world, worlds that sing to you, comfort and quiet or excite you. Books help us understand who we are and how we are to behave. They show us what community and friendship mean; they show us how to live and die."—

Anne Lamott

I've loved reading ever since I was able to hold a book up to my face...I have progressed from reading a book to reading on the desktop to reading on the laptop to reading on the kindle to audibles too...but my love for reading a book is undying and evergreen☺ Reading gave me endless places to travel to, innumerable adventures and life experiences to think about which fueled me with creativity and inspiration and awakened endless thoughts and values.

Reading is a joyous experience, whether you're diving headfirst into a brand new book or rereading an old favorite. It's easy to get absorbed within a world with intriguing characters, high stake situations, and beautiful settings. Books happen to be a form of magic, a safe place you can escape to, something you can't find anywhere else. Reading as a habit helps us in taking a break from the chaos in life. It helps in relaxing the mind and instilling peace in mind.

Now, what about children? Books literally open up a magic portal for children which transports them into another world. Reading is a crucial element of every child's education and a fundamental activity for their mental development. It helps the child to focus on the story, relate to the protagonist and other characters. When one reads a story, one connects with emotions better which helps empathize with others as well. It evokes curiosity in the child to gain knowledge, visualize and gives wings to his imagination. Reading exposes children to new ideas and beliefs, makes them tolerant and appreciative of others perspective.

The more, one reads, the better one comprehends and it enhances the child's vocabulary as well. Being read to or reading out aloud reinforces basic sounds and pronunciation as well as development of the critical language and enunciation skills. Reading sharpens the comprehension and analytical thinking ability. Sharpening these skills today will ensure empowered leaders of tomorrow. The child is engaged in a productive and meaningful hobby which shall add value to his and the life of others.

Reading for pleasure is hugely important for children —a number of life skills are built - resilience, happiness, empathy and communication skills, contributing to improved life chances.

SO COME ON, PICK UP A BOOK AND READ!

GET RID OF MATH PHOBIA.

Have you ever wondered what the meaning of phobia is? Well, in simple terms phobia means "fear". Fears are of many types e.g. fear of water (hydrophobia), fear of closed spaces (claustrophobia) fear of height. (alto phobia) and so on. There is also a different type of fear – fear of performance. One of those is math phobia, which is a fear of Mathematics. It may be defined as a feeling of anxiety that stops one from efficiently tackling mathematical problems. Many people think of math as an extremely tough subject that they cannot master. This negative attitude stops them from focusing on the subject problem which they are tackling. Just before tests or exams they get nervous as they are not prepared. Some even learn and are not prepared. Some even learn understand math but during the time of the test fear clouds their minds and they are not able to perform well. This increases the speculation in their minds that math is too tough for them.

Steps to get rid of Math Phobia.

Getting rid of one's math phobia may be tough but not impossible..All one needs to do is to take a step at a time.

Step 1. Do some breathing exercises daily before you start the day. This will help calm your mind.

Step 2. Work on your math skills daily and try to understand the subject.

Step 3. Apply your knowledge of math in daily life.

Step 4. Ensures regular practice happens.

Step 5. Make maths a part of everyday life.

By this the level of your math skills will increase and so will your confidence. In no time math will be a breeze for you. The important thing is that one must focus, remain calm and avoid getting frustrated. Taking the help of an adult may help too. All in all, math phobia is an emotional condition; it may be the result of several negative experiences in the past. It can be overcome by controlling anxiety, improving math skills and having a positive attitude.

'RULES FOR GETTING ALONG WITH YOUR PARENTS.'

- ❖ Remember – You are not easy to live with all the time!

If there is one thing as tough as being teenager, its being the parent of one. So when things get rough between you and your folks, go look in the mirror. Start thinking about your “people” problems by asking, Am I the Problem?”

- ❖ You can't always get everything you want. There are other people in the world besides you!

You are at the age when you want to try new ideas, feel more grown-up and impress people. But step back now and then, try to see the whole picture. Your family wants what's best for you, even if you can't see it right now.

- ❖ Don't insist on your way all the time!

Don't try to win every argument. Your parents will appreciate it if you give in at times without a battle. Once they know you are willing to cooperate with them, they will be more willing to cooperate with you.

- ❖ Show a little sympathy!

Trying to understand others is a good start for improving any relationship. Try to see things through the other person's eyes.

- ❖ Say “Thank You” to family members at least once every day!

Saying “thanks” will let family members know you appreciate their efforts.

- ❖ At least once a week, do something nice for family members!

Any little things will do, as long as they weren't expecting it. It's a way to make life a little easier for them.

- ❖ Never do anything to betray your parents trust or make them questions your honesty!

The first time you lie to your parents, you put your foot on a dangerous road. Think of how you would feel if your best friend lied to you. Wouldn't it be hard to trust that friend again? When your family losses trust on you, you have lost a lot. Trust is so quick and easy to lose, but so hard to earn back.

- ❖ Try to make a few agreements in advance!

You can settle some big questions ahead of time. Where can you go? What time will you be in? How much allowance will you get? What work will you do around the house? Dozens of things can be settled in advance. That's the easier and more pleasant than arguing about them later.

It's never too late to start. Choosing to get along better with your family is one of the most important decisions you all ever make. Good Luck!

LIFE WITH TORI AND DORI

1. Meeting A Delightful Stranger

Tori....Toriiiiiii.....Dori called out to her 9 year old twin sister, who was somewhere in the cherry bushes, plucking cherries for a surprise birthday party of their mother Meredith. Adoring the crown of red curly hair, blue eyes and chubby pink cheeks made anybody fall in love with the adorable twin sisters. The only difference anybody could make out was from the shade of their eyes. Tori had deep blue eyes and Dori had ocean blue eyes. From their appearances to their interests, from their voice to their moves, everything brimmed with twinning similarity.

Dori was finally out of the bushes, proudly smiled at her sister who was elder to her just by 5 minutes. 'Here, a basketful of sweet cherries', brimmed Tori. 'Why are these half eaten?' asked Dori. 'Oh, I tasted them so that we don't carry back home the sour ones', said Tori. Dori exhaled deeply not to lose patience with her adorable sister but sometimes Tori did get on to her nerves.

'Ok, let's hurry home before mum comes back from work,' saying so Dori pulled Tori along with her towards their cherry red bicycles. A mile away from home, they were at the threshold of a beautiful forest, that looked like a land of fairies, but they never explored the forest apart from the cherry bushes which bordered the forest. Just like the last time, they found a note on the bicycle that said 'DO VISIT ME' and a beautiful clover leaf attached with it. How tempting it looked though for Tori but Dori decided otherwise and threw the note on the ground with caution of word to her sister 'We never know what's in there, let's go.' 'We are running late.'

Imagining all the wonderful sights that could greet her, the adventure that she could get into and wonders of the forest she could be gifted with made Tori happy but at the same time sad as Dori would never allow her to explore this unknown world. On the way back home, immersed in the dream world Tori didn't give a heed where she was riding her bicycle and almost hit an elderly man, who looked new to the town.

With a screeching break Tori halted and so was her sister.

Dealing with Tori sometimes was a nightmare for Dori. She was more of realistic, thought logically at the circumstances and Tori was completely opposite to her.

'Careful little girl', said the old man with a smile and love in the eyes. 'I am so sorry sir, I didn't mean to hurt you', said Tori embarrassingly. 'We are really sorry sir for the discomfort caused by my sister, we beg your pardon', said Dori.

'Pretty little girls, aren't you? What are you doing here all alone?' asked the old man.

'Oh! We were here to.... began Tori.... Nothing special.... ended Dori'.

'Umhm...that's interesting, you two look really adorable and well mannered, let me give you something, here take these hats.' Hats looked interesting, exactly like the clover leaf.

'No thank you sir', said Dori looking at the hats suspiciously. But unlike Dori, Tori quickly grabbed the hats, said thank you and drove the bike away excitedly. Dori had to just follow her. The old man waved at them lovingly and disappeared in the forest.

Dori and Tori reached home just in time, caught hold of their cook Evan and told him to prepare Cherry pies for the birthday surprise. They both completely forgot about the hats and got busy decorating the house for their mother.

Meredith was a CEO in a Textile company and their father James was a Colonel in the Army. He couldn't make it for the birthday this time so the daughters had decided to surprise their mother with little ideas that they had.

Though the sisters were just 9 years old, were quite sensible and responsible with their work. That's what made them the most delightful girls of the little town Hemsworth. A curious place, filled with lilies, rose bushes, cherry blossoms and the most amiable people ever. It was a hide away from the hustle and bustle of the city, thus making it the most amicable dwelling on the earth.

It was 6 pm when Meredith came back home. She was pleasantly surprised to see the decorations. Cherry blossoms adored the table and so was the Cherry Pie, fairy lights lined up the wall with cute pictures of her pinned to it, there was a small note on the side table which asked her to follow the arrow marks. With an uncontrollable wide grin on the face, the mother of the twins followed the arrow marks; she found a beautiful dress hanging on the mannequin which had another note on it. It said, 'Dearest wife, you are the most amazing and a strongest woman I have ever met. I couldn't make it to your birthday but I hope this small gift of mine will make you happy.' Meredith was touched by the gesture but she missed James at the moment. She was drawn out of thoughts when the girls called out 'SURPRISE' and gave the warmest hug ever to their gorgeous mother, from whom they had inherited the red curly hair and the blue eyes.

Girls got their mother dressed and celebrated her birthday with her few friends and house helpers they had. The party ended with the girls dancing and singing a song composed by them. Meredith had a memorable birthday of her life.

It was 9 pm when the girls got back to their bedroom, a quiet sleep is what Dori wanted and she just slumbered off into the dreamy night. Tori took her time brushing her teeth, changing into a nightdress, and finally, when she came back to her bed, she saw something shiny sticking out from the under of her bed. Her inquisitive mind made her pull the shiny thing out and to her surprise, those were the hats that looked like one entity. She saw that the hat not only shined but also had peculiar characters drawn on it. They were moving, going about with the daily chores.

A lady with a long nose was cradling a crying baby, and a stout old man was giving hay to his cute-looking cows.

'Grandpa!!! Where are you?'

A girl who looked exactly like Tori was calling out to her Grandpa. Grandpa turned around to see the little girl and he was none other than the mysterious old man whom Tori and Dori had met earlier that day.

The little girl in the hat showed a paper boat to her grandpa, he saw it lovingly and guided her to a stream where they left the paper boat afloat. It moved with the wind and glided in the undergrowth of the forest. The little girl clapped happily and gave a tight hug to her grandfather.

She saw a spotted deer and ran to catch it, grandfather called out to her, 'Lily, come back home before the supper', said the grandfather and off he went home.

Tori was curious to find out what was Lily up to, and she also wondered how the grandfather didn't ask her to be careful but rather told her to be back before supper. She turned the hat but could see only the lady with a long nose. She couldn't just hold back her excitement, she tried talking to the old man but he was in the hat, he couldn't hear. Suddenly she spotted a blue butterfly, flying beside him and he smiled at it lovingly.

Something struck Tori, she had spotted a similar butterfly on her hat that day and it flew away the minute she had grabbed the hats from the old man. She vaguely remembered the golden spots on the butterfly wings sparkling and emitting bright light.....

FAMILY- A CORE OF HUMAN RELATIONSHIP

Family is the smallest unit of society. It was formed to meet the basic needs of human life and to live life, enthusiastically, creating tremendous joy full climate all around. In the modern world Family life is very delicate and insensible. Existence of family was deemed to develop personality of person in multidimensional way of life. In those days joint families were prevailing harmonious survival by bonding every individual with love. Kindness, co-operation serve for humanity.

To the modern generation, it is required to bring about positive changes in our children. So that they can acquiesce ethical, moral values rather than mere modern education system. It is the time to strengthen human relationships conveying its importance and need to our children. In olden days a child was brought in joint family which made the child to have sensible and humorous approach being with ground, Parents, neighbors' friends and relatives. Being associated with family structure was really benefited to a child have all round development.

Now a day in modern life nuclear families are all around us. We see loneliness and boring in individual life the relationships are mechanical. Even if we shake hand with someone else we feel as if holding dead fish in hand there is no love in eyes, no love in heart, only artificial hugging and hand shaking. We are not connected socially we may talk of international issues but we don't know about our neighbour. It is black mark on human race. Westernization diverted our culture and heritage. So our children ought to understand and adopt the importance of true life.

Health and Physical Education

Physical activity is essential for a student's overall health. Physical education may be the most important subjects that students study in school. It is a subject that aims to teach children about physical fitness. It is usually a practical learning ability that enables students to participate in the learning process physically. Physical schooling has numerous advantages, including improving students' physical health as well as improving their academic achievement. Parents frequently place a higher value on grades and rankings than on their children. However, for children to grow holistically, parents must teach them how to strike the proper balance between the two. Physical education programs are important because they assist children to acquire a range of skills, including the capacity to apply tactics, methods, and fresh ideas to perform well at home and school.

Promoting a positive attitude towards exercise from a young age will assist them in being healthy as they grow older.

Many schools have reduced physical education programs in recent years, focusing instead on academics as they attempt to prepare children for college and careers. According to studies, adults who regularly attend physical education sessions in school are almost twice as likely to become involved as their nonphysical education peers. The school is more likely to benefit from the following:

- 1) BATTLE AGAINST CHILD OBESITY
- 2) COMMUNICATION AND LEADERSHIP SKILLS
- 3) BETTER ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE
- 4) BETTER QUALITY OF SLEEP
- 5) REDUCES ANXIETY AND DEPRESSION
- 6) SELF DISCIPLINE

Breaking stereotype!!!!!!

People create stereotypes of an outgroup to justify the actions that their in-group has committed (or plans to commit) towards that outgroup. Stereotype threat leads to a vicious circle. Stigmatised individuals experience anxiety which depletes their cognitive resources and leads to underperformance, confirmation of the negative stereotype and reinforcement of the fear. By removing gender-stereotypes from the children's learning and playing environment, all children are able to develop to their fullest potential. They no longer absorb potentially harmful stereotypes that could become the basis for gender-based violence later in life. Stereotypes can often lead to prejudices—which are formed opinions about a person that are not based on actual experience or reason and could lead to favoring one person or group against another. Remarks about race, politics, sex and gender are often based on the most common stereotypes. Girl should be like this ,boys should be like this, boys shouldn't cry , shouldn't play with dolls ,always protect women ,girls are weak ,they should tolerate everything , girl should be careful about her talk and behaviour .....and the list goes on of the stereotype. It's very necessary to break them . Lets us all take a thought about it and make sure we don't end up being stereotyped or prejudicing person.

I am chalk , I am a chalk and I am chalk.

Very true and beautiful lines by the chalk where it plays an important role in the lives of many people, so called teachers begin their career with this special tiny creature known as chalk which can only listen to them. Chalk can spread the knowledge from teachers to the children and it can act as a mediator to connect many innocent and beautiful souls with a knowledgeable person called teacher.

When teachers are happy, coloured chalks dance in their hands on the boards to clear the things as well as to impart many things. Like.....If the coloured chalks are dancing in the hands of Science teachers through diagrams/sketches, white chalks run seriously on the board in the hands of Math teacher, all beautiful variety of chalks are peeping out from the box to bloom in the forms of many pictures by ART teacher, yellow coloured chalk is waiting for the English teacher to grasp the children’s attention towards the word called GRAMMAR by walking on the board a few chalks are about to play in the hands of Social Science teacher to show I am proud to draw the map of INDIA. Green chalks are waiting for the hands of Kannada to spread the aroma of Kannada to beat the beat of KANNADIGA’s in the heart and souls of people. Last but not the least all kinds of chalks are enjoying in the innocent hands to scribble, draw, write and play in the classes yet they enjoy because they are CHALKS.

Diana's California Dream

Once there lived a beautiful princess. She had blue eyes and pink hair. Her name was Diana. She loved stories and playing with her friends. She lived in London but best she loved going to California. One day, she asked her mother when they will go to California. Mother said, 'Yes sweetheart, very soon we'll go, now go off to sleep. Good night.'

Diana slept, that night she dreamt about California. She saw lots of things in California. She saw a big blue bus in which her mother and she went to a flea market. She saw beautiful shops of dresses, toys, candies and wind chimes. She wanted candies and a pretty doll. Her mother bought the candies and the pretty doll. Then, her mother booked a hotel and they stayed there overnight. Next day she along with her mother went to Disney Land.

She was amazed to see a lot of rides. She loved merry-go- rounds the most. She also went to roller coaster and shrieked out of fear. Listening to her scream, her mother came to her room and saw that Diana was sweating out of fear. Upon waking up and asking, Diana said, I dreamt about California, it was amazing but I'll not sit in the roller coaster.

Mother laughed at her and said this is a nice dream, next Sunday we'll go to California. Diana was thrilled to hear it and hugged her mother happily. She jumped in excitement and they lived happily ever after.

The Kill

Evelyn: NO!! Mamma I don't wanna stay ALONE!!

Evelyn was gone stay all alone in her home. She was a young girl of early fifteens. Her mom and dad were going on working visit to another country for the first time.

Evelyn's mom: Sweet heart, you are a jvnite now. You have to know to stay independent now onwards. Otherwise you will be always spoon-fed by us.

Evelyn: NO... Mom I am not ready- She was cut off by her dad's words.

Evelyn's father: See youngster you are grown-up. YOU! HAVE! TO! STAY! INDEPENTANT! NOW ONWARDS!

The halls arora was filled with dead hush. No one was ready to address their words. Everyone left for their rooms for rest.

-The next day-

-After her school hours-

Evelyn came home with tired face hanged on. Freshed up her whole body with warm water running on.

She switched on the television in her home. Soon enough she got bored seeing the old cartoons. Then she switched the cannel to news channel.

In that news channel A reporter was reporting a news that "A manslayer escaped the prison of our town". And she (reporter) continued that "All the town people in the town should stay alert for few days until the police force arrest the man. Evelyn was horrified. Her puppy Jannie came running towards her. She rushed to the windows of her home and shut them down. Then she closed the doors of her home and stayed quiet after coming down to hall. She hugged a soft and a cozy pillow. She said to herself that "I am brave, nothing will happen to me. I am safe." Sweet rolled down her head. At midnight 12, she closed her eyes until next morning. -Next morning- At 7:00 a.m- It was a peaceful Sunday for her but the little did she knew that it was going to be runned on opening of her eyes.

Slowly her eyes opened due to a rotten smell lingering in her home. She took a movement to realise that her puppy was not around her.

Every single day I would wake to see only my puppy's adorable eyes. Where is it now? She thought. Rising her body up quickly. She sniffed the rotten smell's birth place (Where it was coming from). She slowly opened the crealcly atticis door. There was a cupboard present before they shifted to this house. The more quiter steps she took going nearer to the cupboard As the cupboard was opened by her shaky hands immediately she closed her eyes and turned her face aside. The cupboard was finally opened. One after one she opened her two eyes. She was horrified seeing image reflection in her eyes. The body of her was hanged upside with brutal bite marks on her face, neck and her hand. She fell on her knees and saw her hands were bloody with the blood of hers. Whom do you think she was killed by?

SRI School, Bagalkot

Sri Ranganath International School (SRI) is at the forefront of preparing the future generation citizens of India is very well guided by honorable educationist Dr. Gururaj Karjagi. I am associated with SRI as a stakeholder since last 10 years and both my son and daughter studied here. My son is currently studying B. Tech. at VIT, Vellore, TN.

SRI provides high quality education with a human touch to its students. I am impressed with the transparency as school accepts all payments through cheque/ online mode. Very limited strength of students per class and very caring teachers is one of the highlights of SRI. Being a day-boarding and residential school, SRI caters to the needs students of working parents and professionals.

Students here are very well nourished academically as well as physically through high quality education, tasty food along with balanced sports, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. Some of the attractions at SRI include "Ranga Taranga", "Ranga SRI" in addition to yearly educational tours for students.

I look forward to extended fruitful association with SRI in the years to come.

Thanks to members of Management, Principal Vikram Narvekar and all teaching and supporting staff of SRI for providing wonderful learning environment.

कावडे एजुकेशनल ट्रस्ट का श्री रंगनाथ इंटरनेशनल स्कूल

(सह शिक्षण, सी.बी.एस.सी स्कूल, आवासीय और डे स्कूल)

श्री रंगनाथसा कावडे की कड़ी मेहनत और शिक्षा के प्रति प्यार से स्थापित यह स्कूल शिक्षा विशेषज्ञ श्री गुरुराज करजगी के मार्गदर्शन में सफलतापूर्वक कार्य कर रहा है।

यह पाठशाला सुंदर प्राकृतिक वातावरण में सुंदर इमारतों से बहुत ही आकर्षक रूप से बनाया गया है। कावडे परिवार गांधीवादी दर्शन के अनुयायी हैं। गुलेदगुड्डा का एक बड़ा व्यापारी परिवार है उन्हें शिक्षा के बारे में जो फिकर या चिंता के कारण ही श्री रंगनाथ इंटरनेशनल स्कूल प्रारंभ किया गया है जो आज सफलतापूर्वक कार्य कर रहा है।

सचिव श्री रुकमासा कावडे के नेतृत्व में प्रधानाचार्य श्री विक्रम नार्वेकर के मार्गदर्शन में विद्यालय की प्रगति काबिले तारीफ है।

मेरी बेटी कुमारी श्रेय एन जादव ने वर्ष 2017 -18 में द्वितीय कक्षा में प्रवेश लिया और अब तक वहीं पर अभ्यास कर रही है। हमने प्रत्येक विषय को पढ़ाने में सभी शिक्षकों की कड़ी मेहनत को देखा है।

पाठशाला का वातावरण बच्चों के अच्छे स्वास्थ्य के लिए अनुकूल है क्योंकि यह शहरी क्षेत्र से दूर है और स्कूल में बच्चों की पाठ्य चर्चा गतिविधियों के साथ-साथ अन्य पाठ्येतर गतिविधियों पर दिया जा रहा ध्यान छात्रों के सर्वांगीण विकास के लिए अनुकूल है।

सी.बी. एस.सी द्वारा मान्यता प्राप्त यह पाठशाला बच्चों को सक्रिय रखने के लिए अच्छी तरह से सुसज्जित कक्षाओं, विज्ञान प्रयोगशालाओं, कला, संगीत विभागों, खेल के मैदान के साथ अपनी सभी आवश्यकताओं को पूरा करता है।

पाठशाला के बोधक और बोधकेतर स्टाफ द्वारा बच्चों के प्रति जो फिकर या चिंता बरती जा रही है काबिले तारीफ है। भोजन और नाश्ते की व्यवस्था, परिवहन की व्यवस्था सब ठीक है।

मेरी व्यक्तिगत राय यह है कि यदि छात्रों की बेहतर गुणवत्ता पूर्ण शिक्षा के लिए अपनाई गई नई प्रणालियों को प्रभावी ढंग से लागू किया जाए तो सर्वश्रेष्ठ की उम्मीद की जा सकती है। कुल मिलाकर यह कहना है कि शिक्षा के क्षेत्र में बागलकोट में नामचीन कई शिक्षण संस्थानों के साथ कम समय में प्रतिस्पर्धा करके सफल हो गया है। ऐसे ही यह ऊंचे स्थान पर पहुंचे यही मेरी कामना है।
